

If you compete with your dogs, Western North Carolina is where you want to be!

Distance to various show locations:

In your own backyard:

- 🐾 Located at the WNC Agricultural Center in Fletcher, NC (across from the airport) is the Blue Ridge Classic held over Memorial Day Weekend. 4 days of Conformation, 4 days of Agility and 3 days of obedience all at one location! Two weeks later the Asheville KC holds their 2 day conformation show.
- 🐾 WNC Dog Fanciers Conformation and Obedience Trial held each May is just off of I-40, west of Asheville!
- 🐾 Both the Asheville KC and the Obedience Club of Asheville hold two days of obedience trials each fall.
- 🐾 Blue Ridge Agility Club and other clubs hold agility trials at the WNC Ag. Center throughout the year.
- 🐾 Western Carolina Diving Dogs offers many dock diving opportunities throughout the summer

We are not far from some major regional shows!

Distance to some of the major clusters:

- Greenville, SC – 1 hour
- Atlanta, GA – approx. 3 hours
- Perry, GA – 4.5 hours
- Raleigh, NC – 4.5 hours
- Lexington, KY – 4.5 hours
- Louisville, KY – 5 hours

Other major show sites:

- Westminster – 12 hours
- Purina Expo Center in Missouri – 10 hours
(both straight shots on the interstate)

As well as multiple obedience and agility trials all over the region all year round!

“Competing in multiple venues, I can easily show almost every weekend of the year without driving more than 3 hours from home”
